GENERAL INFORMATION FOR
MRS. NIXON'S VISIT TO CHINA

On all of her separate visits, Mrs. Nixon will be escorted from the Guest House by the wife of a leading official of the PRC. An interpreter furnished by the PRC will also be along. The party traveling with Mrs. Nixon will be kept to a minimum.

In each instance upon arrival at the location, Mrs. Nixon will be greeted first by "the leading or responsible member" of the particular activity she is visiting. There will usually be additional people in the greeting party, normally lesser officials of the activity and guides. Most greeting parties should consist of from three to six people. Questions will be welcomed by Mrs. Nixon's hosts. Direct dialog through an interpreter with the workers is possible, whether it be in a factory, hospital, kitchen, commune, or whatever.

PEKING HOTEL KITCHEN

Mrs. Nixon will arrive at the front entrance of the hotel where she will be met by the "responsible member" of the hotel staff. The party will be escorted to a sitting room off the main lobby and will be joined by additional hotel staff members including the chief cook and some of his staff. The leading member will present a short briefing on the history of the Peking Hotel. The chief cook will then present a short briefing on the kitchen operation. During the briefing tea will be served. At the conclusion of the briefing, Mrs. Nixon will be escorted into the kitchen by the chief cook.

The kitchen is divided into four separate sections. They are: processing and preparation of meat and vegetables, preparation of cold dishes, preparation of cakes and pastries, and the cooking area. Mrs. Nixon will be able to move about all of these areas. Mrs. Nixon will have an opportunity to sample small portions of some of the dishes being prepared if she so desires. The cooks take great pride in their work. They strive to have their food look as good as it tastes. As pointed out in an earlier cable, this kitchen caters to the diplomatic functions of the various embassies in Peking.

At the conclusion of the kitchen tour, Mrs. Nixon will be escorted to the main lobby where she will bid farewell to her host and depart.

11:35 a.m. Arrive Guest House.
EVERGREEN PEOPLE'S COMMUNE

This is basically a walking tour. It will be necessary to dress warmly, and warm comfortable footwear is a must. The tour encompasses the entire spectrum of activity in the commune. The highlights of the tour will be the visit to the school classrooms, the visit to the family dwelling, and the walk through the market place. The atmosphere should be warm and friendly.

At this time of year the fields are obviously not planted, so the commune takes great pride in their hothouses and in being able to produce some vegetables and to grow seedlings during the winter. The people are very dedicated and hard working. They measure their contribution by the yield of their crops.

Provided conditions are the same as they have been during past visits to the commune, Mrs. Nixon should be in a position to come in close contact with the people, especially at the market area.
TRIP TO PEKING GLASSWARE FACTORY

3:15 p.m. Motorcade departs Guest House en route Peking glassware factory.

(Driving time: 20 mins.)

Assignments to be determined.

Proceed behind Mrs. Nixon into the factory and up the stairs and remain behind Mrs. Nixon throughout the tour.

3:50 p.m. Mrs. Nixon and party visit three separate rooms where workers are making glass flowers and figurines. These are separate work areas and it is possible to view the process up close.

Proceed down staircase to second floor where workers assemble figurines and flowers into final product.
4:10 p.m. Depart assembly room. Proceed to briefing room.

4:11 p.m. Arrive briefing room. Observe display of many products produced by the factory.

4:20 p.m. Briefing by Revolutionary Committee Leader.

NOTE: The briefing consists of factual background material and comparison of conditions, output, etc. between the days before the Revolution as compared to afterward.

SPECIAL NOTE

Mrs. Nixon and members of the party will have an opportunity to ask questions and make comments on the factory.

4:30 p.m. Depart the briefing room and proceed to the motorcade in the courtyard.

Mrs. Nixon bids farewell to her host.

4:35 p.m. Motorcade departs en route the Guest House.

Assignments are the same as on arrival.

4:55 p.m. Arrive Guest House.

Mrs. Nixon proceeds to her suite.
Upon arrival at the factory Mrs. Nixon will be met by the factory's leading member, who will act as host and guide. The factory building resembles a school in design. The working areas are classroom size and contain four to six separate working areas where glass figurines and flowers are made from the raw materials produced by the factory. It is possible to get a very close view of the workers shaping the figurines out of the raw material.

The work areas are located on the third floor, accessible by a narrow staircase. An assembly room where flowers and arrangements are made is located on the second floor as well as a display room. At the end of the tour Mrs. Nixon will be invited for tea in the display room. The leading member will then give a short backgrounder on the factory. The party will be seated at a long narrow table in the display room.

Throughout the tour Mrs. Nixon will be told of the improving work conditions which have been instituted to increase production capacity.

The leading member is very proud of the progress which has been made but is quick to point out the need for improvement. At the conclusion of the briefing Mrs. Nixon will have an opportunity to comment on what she has seen.

Mrs. Nixon will be escorted to her motorcade and bid farewell to her host and depart.
TRIP TO PEKING CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

3:15 p.m. Motorcade departs Guest House en route Children's Hospital.

(Driving time: 10 mins.)

4:37 p.m.  Mrs. Nixon bids farewell to host and members of the hospital staff.

4:40 p.m.  Motorcade departs en route Guest House.

4:50 p.m.  Arrive Guest House.
The highlight of the hospital tour is the outpatient clinic where acupuncture is being used as treatment for several diseases and maladies. There will be at least one English-speaking physician present who will be able to explain in detail what the treatment is. Interpreters have a difficult time with the technical terms, so the doctor will be very helpful.

Mrs. Nixon will not go into surgery to view an operation nor will she go into the infant care ward where masks would have to be worn.

The rest of the tour will consist of visiting several wards where chronically ill children are being treated. The children in many instances will be playing and reading when Mrs. Nixon walks through.

Mrs. Nixon's host during the tour will be the leading member of the hospital's Revolutionary Committee. At the conclusion of the tour, Mrs. Nixon will have tea with the staff and have an opportunity to comment on what she has seen.
